

Counsel & Share

“As young women learn and discuss gospel principles together, the Spirit of the Lord can speak to their minds and hearts. They exercise faith when they make a commitment to act on what they have heard and felt. As they put gospel principles into practice in their lives, they begin to have experiences and gain insights and understanding that they can share with one another.”

Counsel:

- Needs of the members of the class
- Responsibilities and assignments they have been given

Share:

Share your own experiences and then encourage others to share.

- Your efforts to act on the previous week's lesson, the month's topic, or another gospel principle and how it has affected your life
- What more do you hope to do and learn
